VOTE LIBERAL DEMOCRATS

Norfolk County Council Election Special • Thursday 4th June 2009

Transport

• Liberal Democrats recognise that business and jobs in Norfolk are reliant on good transport networks while rural villages need the County to encourage and support public transport.

• We also continue to campaign for a complete (not 3/4) Northern Distributor Route for Norwich while still bearing in mind local environmental and community concerns.

• Lib Dems support integrated transport packages, which will improve accessibility to town/city centres by walking, cycling and public transport.

Lib Dems support the 'safer neighbourhoods partnership'.

• We back the recently introduced Police Community Support Officers – in their endeavours to make Norfolk a safer and welcoming place – to live, work and play.

• We aim to ensure that, before every council decision is taken, full thought is given to how it will reduce opportunities to commit crime.

Fair support for all

Liberal Democrats believe that providing services for those in need is a vital part of the County Council's duties.

The Lib Dems:

• Will invest in the services that support the needs of Norfolk's older citizens such as home help, day care, respite care, housing with 24 hour care, as well as residential and nursing home care.

Tim East delighted by News!

Norfolk County Council has made a decision to withdraw preferred bidder status from Waste Recycling Group, the company behind the controversial plans for building an Incinerator at Costessey. Campaigners against the Incinerator plans, today expressed their delight at the County Council's decision.

Tim East County Councillor for Costessey said: "I'm delighted for the residents of Costessey and Norwich who have all objected so vociferously, and for the many who have fought so valiantly in opposing this monstrous WRG Incinerator proposal.

Incineration replaced by The Ideal Waste Strategy

An ideal waste strategy would produce no toxic emissions, no toxic by-products, no residues that need landfilling (zero waste), good recovery of materials and would be capable of dealing with all types of waste. This might seem a tall order but it is now possible to achieve this goal. Incineration with its potentially dangerous emissions to air, high volumes of ash that need landfilling and the very toxic nature of the fly ash would definitely rule it out. Similarly pyrolysis produces toxic by-products and is best avoided. No single strategy can achieve these aims so what is needed is an integrated strategy. The first component must be some form of separation and recycling. Three forms of waste strategy then need to be considered: Mechanical Biological Treatment, Anaerobic Digestion (which can be a part of the above) and types of Gasification that produce no ash.

The good news is that the ideal waste strategy system described above is currently being built at Costessey!
